MEDICINAL.

A SURPRISING CASE.

Mr. Alex. W. Harris, a prominent lawyer at No. 1109 G st. n. w., Washington, D. C., under date of Jan. 11th, 1890, wrote to the A. B. C. Chemical Co., Richmond, Va., giving the history of a case of skin eruption of 20 years' standing, the result of malignant blood disease. (At this time Mr. Harris had been unable to walk for six months.) In reply he was directed to use A. B. C. Alternative with the assurance that he would be cured. March 1st, 1890, Mr. Harris again wrote the A. B. C. Chemical Co. in the following words: "The improvement in my case so far is almost miraculous. I am really getting well, and can walk as well as I ever could, and my general health was never better. I shall write you from time to time. Meantime you can refer any one to me you desire, and I shall certainly tell them that the A. B. C. Alternative has done me more good in two months than has 20 years' experience with various eminent physicians and all other remedies tried." Under date of April 7th, 1890, Mr. Harris wrote, "I am entirely well."

Gypsy Prince William.

A despatch from Middletown, Conn., says: Prince William is the richest gypsy in America, perhaps, and he rolls about the world in a big silver and gold chariot, the grandest wagon in New England. Prince William is smart and shrewd. He drives a troop of horses and trades them to farmers. His wife goes about the towns at which he halts and tells fortunes for 25 cents or $1 an hour. Not long ago Princess Mary William told Mrs. Ibbitt, of Rockville, that her husband was a "regular Don Juan." Mrs. Ibbitt pitched into Ibbitt, and then Don Juan whipped Princess Mary. The Sun printed an account of the incident and the court proceedings when Ibbitt was heavily fined for thrashing the Princess. Ibbitt appealed his case to the Supreme Court. Mary is just getting well of her wounds. The affair made Rockville unattractive to the Prince, so he rallied his band, mounted the lofty seat of his flaming chariot, and with his troop of horses trailing behind, rolled over the rough hills through lofty Hebron town into Hartford. He is still in Hartford, having had his chariot repaired and embellished. It is a wonderful affair. No Pharaoh ever rushed to battle in more pomp and circumstance. He is chariot and horse both to the chief and his wife. They sit on the high seat as they travel, overlooking a league of country; when they are on camped they sleep inside. The interior is beautifully fitted up; the walls are covered with elegant and costly hangings. It is comfortable, warm and cozy. Outside the carriage is a work of art. The sides are handsomely paneled, painted and varnished. The ground work is of maroon color and the ornamentation of gold. On the panels are oil paintings of hunting and sporting scenes. The wheels and running gear are painted to match the body and all the metal work is triple silver plated. The gypsy prince is about to set out on his great annual tour, and proposes to go in gorgeous style. E. M. Roberts & Son, of Hartford, did the painting for the vehicle and Job May, of East Hartford, where the prince owns a great deal of real estate, varnished it and touched up the rusty spots. The chariot has cost Prince William altogether $2,500. It was built for $1,500, and the improvements at Hartford cost $1,000 more. At one time P. T. Barnum saw the gypsy chief riding about in splendor and tried to buy the outfit, but Prince William is just as big a chief as Barnum, and he wouldn't sell it.

THE SENATE GAVEL.—The Vice President's gavel is of itself a standing evidence that the Senate is an orderly body and needs no schoolmaster to compel quiet. The gavel has no handle. It never did have any. It is simply a little piece of white ivory like the head of a gavel, polished and shining. It would not do in the House at all, for the most that can be done with it is to give a gentle rapping on the desk, and in the other wing the Speaker sometimes needs a hammer away like a man with a beetle.

This Senate gavel, with which the Vice President tells the Senators that they are making too much noise, has been in existence and in use as a gavel for many years. It is the identical one, it is said, which was in use when Daniel Webster was in the Senate, and probably was used the day he made his reply to Hayne, to still the buzz in the gallery when the great man sat down. There is a mystery about the gavel, too. Nobody but Capt. Bassett, the white haired door keeper, knows what becomes of it during the recess and when Congress is not in session. The venerable old Captain Bassett takes it from the Vice President's desk when the Senate adjourns and hides it somewhere, and it is lost to the world until it is needed again by the Vice President.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Wednesday, July 16, 1890.

Store closes this evening at 5 o'clock. Saturdays at 1 p. m.

Our Regular Semi-annual Reduction Sale commences to-day, July 16. We shall then begin to clean up the stock prior to inventory, July 31, and reductions will be the order of the day. We have a purely business reason for everything we do—every reduction we make. We are reducing the price of Summer Goods because they ought to be sold this month. We reduce the price of Novelties to dispose of them before the novelty wears off. We reduce goods to sell them, and it is only the goods that belong to a season that get reduced, as we have a thousand and one things on which the price remains the same, year in and year out.

Stock-taking Reductions in Men's Department.—All that are left of two lines of French Lisle Thread Underwear (our own importation) are a few Shirts and Drawers. Sizes in Shirts 36, 38, 40 and 44. Sizes in Drawers 34 and 40.

Drawers in Light Blue and Ecru, thin and cool, well made and finished. Reduced to $1.25 per pair.

6 Men's Fancy Single-breasted Vests, small spots and stripes. Sizes 36 and 40. Reduced to $1 each.

30 Men's Fancy Single-breasted Vests, in stripes, checks, plaids, and spots; our own importation; well made and perfect fitting; different prices in this lot. $2.25 to $3.75. All reduced to $2 each.

62 Men's Fancy Striped English-made Flannel Shirts. Sizes 14 to 16½. Reduced to $2 each.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

Is as indispensable to the modern traveler or stay-at-home as the necessities of life. We cannot get along without it. Such being the case, we keep a full supply of everything to satisfy all demands, all tastes, all pocket-books.

This being the season of travel and recreation, we call attention to the following: A prime requisite is a box of Paper and Envelopes in compact form. We have it in a variety of styles, commercial and octavo sizes. In this department we constantly maintain a stock of the best and most exclusive Writing Papers, appropriate for all forms and needs of polite correspondence. The varieties of paper shown embrace the productions of the leading manufacturers of high-grade Writing Papers of domestic and foreign make.

Correspondence Cards, new styles and cheaper than ever.

All the standard makes of Ink, in every size, shape and price, from 5c upwards. Take some of this with you in a traveling inkstand, of which we have a large variety; or, if you use a Stylographic or Fountain Pen, have it filled with this ink. If you do not possess one of these Pens, let us sell you one of the latest and best patterns, ranging in price from $3 upwards.

Portfolios and Writing Tablets are always available. You can sit down on the bench or wherever you please, quietly and alone, free from observing eyes, and write that letter which needs a long reply.

If you are out of town and cannot examine for yourself, our complete stock of Stationery and Writing Goods, send us your orders and we will send you in return just what you want.
